RULES ON NEW LAWS CREATE BIG INTEREST

Government Functions Actively Although Congress Has Adjourned

MUST INTERPRET BILLS Eagerly Await Regulations Governing Measures Recently Passed

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1926, Post, Pub. Co.

Washington—Although the country may have the impression that government more or less ceases to function when congress adjourns and the president departs for the summer capital, the truth is the next few months will see some vital decisions carried into effect by the government departments charged with the enforcement of the laws just passed.

Seven hundred and fifty-nine laws have been added to the national statutes. They require interpretation. Regulations explaining their limits usually have all the force of the law itself. Regulations are awaited with almost the same degree of interest as was exhibited by interested parties in the making of the legislation. This is because a regulation may overstep the bounds or it may not go far enough. In any event, the regulations must be drawn up by bureaus and departments and proclaimed at once.

Take for instance, the only piece of farm legislation passed by congress, the measure creating a bureau in the department of agriculture to supervise co-operative marketing. There are about 11,000 co-operative organizations. They are intensely interested in just how the government is going to co-operate with them. They have always been sensitive on the subject of too much supervision, but they are, on the other hand, anxious for such co-ordination as the federal government can give them that is effective.

INTEREST IN RAIL BILL. There is the new railroad legislation known as the Watson-Parker law. The president has named and the senate has confirmed the men who are to serve on the new mediation board. The transportation interests of the country are concerned vitally in whether the new scheme works, and there are indications that some test cases will be shortly placed before the board for consideration.

Regularly, too, the bureau of internal revenue is proclaiming new regulations with reference to the recently passed tax legislation. The bureau is some respects the center of summer activity here except possibly for the all-important work of the department of commerce which maintains a contact with business problems unaffected by whether congress or the chief executive is here. Matters of large policy are sent to the president by Secretary Hoover but in the main the department functions along well defined lines.

The department of justice shows signs of taking an even more active interest than ever before in combinations of big corporations and there are evidences that this phase of public policy will attract more and more attention as the attitude of the department is evolved along the lines of the Colonel Donagan's recent speech. The colonel, assistant to the attorney general, has more voice in policies than is customary with an assistant attorney general.

BILL BOOMS BUILDING. Then there is the big item of appropriations. Congress authorizes the expenditure of more than three billions but the government departments do the spending. The huge bill for public buildings will attract the eyes and architects as it will mean a stimulus to the building industry here as well as in other parts of the country.

On the whole the country may see little of the spectacular and dramatic and may hear less of the conversation for which congress is noted but the action of the federal government will in the next few months touch vitally in a multitude of interests. For the beginning of the fiscal year—July 1st—was like New Year's day in government, a day of beginning on a vast number of tasks some of them impossible heretofore because of the uncertainty of legislation and some just neglected till congress could go away and the government administrators left to work out their problems undisturbed by the overhanging club of congressional inquiries and resolutions.

NAME MEN WHO GAVE MONEY TO DRY LEAGUE

Rockefeller and Son Contributed $20,000 to Anti-Saloon Fund

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—John D. Rockefeller and his son John D. Jr. have contributed $20,000 to the Anti-Saloon league since January 1, 1925. This was shown by a list of contributions to the dry organization made public today by the senate campaign funds committee. The committee refused by a vote of three to two to make public contributions prior to that date.

The Rockefeller contribution was made on April 11, 1925. Joseph Boyer of Detroit, was the next largest contributor for the period covered, a total of $11,000.

The North Woodward-ave Methodist Episcopal church, of Detroit gave $10,000 one half of which was supplied by S. S. Kresge, the ten cent store magnate.

Some other contributions were: H. M. Austin—no address $2,000. P. A. Peterson, Rockford, Ill., $5,000. The Misses Colvin, Lake Forest, Ill., $1,000.

James S. McKee, Muscatine, Ia., $1,000. Hugh Strange, Kenosha, $500. Paul Strange, Kenosha, $500.

2 NEW YORKERS

MAY SEEK OFFICE

Governor Smith and Senator Wadsworth May Run for President

New York—(AP)—New York now has two native sons informally nominated for the presidency. They are of different political faith, but each is a vet.

In the Tammany hall Independence Day rally, Governor Al Smith was introduced by Chief Sachem John R. Voorhees the grand old man of Tammany, now in his 56th year, who said he hoped to greet the governor as president on July 4, 1928. "Judge, I accept the nomination," Governor Smith smilingly replied, and the audience broke into cheers.

At the Buffalo municipal celebration of the holiday, Governor Smith's name was greeted tumultuously and speakers urged another term as governor for him as a stepping stone to the presidency.

In Rochester James W. Wadsworth, United States senator said that all attempts to dictate people's habits by government regulation must result in failure. Mayor Martin B. O'Neill immediately prophesied that the "Senator will be a future Republican candidate for the presidency."

APPLETON MAN, MENASHA GIRL SINK IN LAKE

Three Saved in Fourth of July Tragedy Near Amherst Junction

A Fourth of July outing of Appleton and Menasha people at Lake Emily, near Amherst Junction, ended in a tragedy about 4:45 Monday afternoon when a boat containing five persons capsized after it filled with water from a leak and two persons were drowned.

The dead are Clifford Strope, 20, Route 4, Appleton, and Miss Anna Peck, 20, 620 First-st., Menasha. The bodies were recovered at 5 o'clock Tuesday morning and are being taken to their homes.

Walter Springs, 724 W. Fair-st., Appleton, one of the occupants of the boat is credited with saving the lives of the other two, Mrs. Clifford Strope, widow of the drowned man, and her sister, Miss Martha Nadolny, Menasha.

TWO COULD SWIM

Springers and Strope were the only ones who could swim but Strope sank immediately after he struck the water. Springers swam after Mrs. Strope and Miss Nadolny as they were sinking and pulled them to the boat to which they clung while Springers tried to save Miss Peck, still struggling in the water. She went down before he could reach her, and exhausted by his struggles with the other two women, he was unable to dive for her. Strope did not rise to the surface after he went into the water. Springers helped the two women still clinging to the boat to reach shore.

The boat apparently had a leak when the five persons went into it but they thought nothing of the water in the bottom of the hold. A few minutes later Miss Peck noticed that the boat was filling up and in another instant had capsized. Springers immediately swam to Mrs. Strope and Miss Nadolny and pulled them to the overturned craft and started for the other struggling girl but could not reach her.

FIND BODIES

A search for the bodies was started immediately and continued until 10 o'clock that night when it was necessary to stop because there were no lights available. Dragging of the lake was resumed at daylight Tuesday and the bodies were found about 5 o'clock.

Mr. Strope is survived by his widow, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Strope R. 4, Appleton, one sister Mrs. M. A. Wilson, Appleton, two brothers, Earl, Chicago, and Lester, Appleton.

Miss Peck's survivors are her parents, two brothers, John and Joseph, Milwaukee, and a sister, Marie, Menasha.

RAIL MEN GIVE THOMAS VOTE OF CONFIDENCE

Weymouth, England—(AP)—The national union of Railway men Tuesday gave an overwhelming vote of confidence to J. H. Thomas, general secretary of the union, on his conduct during the recent general strike.

Only six delegates voted for his dismissal from office as demanded by the nine Elms and Manchester branches.

Appleton Passes Quietest July 4 In Its History

America's 150th birthday as an independent nation passed without more than a few minor incidents in Appleton. In spite of the double holiday Sunday and Monday, and despite the great number of automobiles passing through the city from all parts of the United States, there was not an automobile accident worthy of mention within the limits of the city. Only one mishap of this nature was reported to the police during the 2-day period.

Three accidents, one of which resulted in death, a second probably fatal, and the third of an extremely serious nature, but all outside of Appleton, detracted from the joy of the celebration for many people of the city and county.

Clifford Strope, route 4, Appleton, and Miss Anna Peck, 620 First-st., Menasha, were drowned in Lake Emily near Amherst Junction while a party of Appleton and Menasha people were attending a picnic.

Arthur Lawrence of Milwaukee, was probably fatally injured Monday when he dove into shallow water at Waverly beach, breaking his neck when he hit the bottom of Lake Winnebago.

PAYS DEBT

SAMUEL HAYDEN

Fifteen years ago Samuel Hayden, business man, failed in Clay Center, Kas., and went $15,000 into debt. He vowed to pay off every cent, and did so, at the rate of $1,000 a year. Now he has just paid off the last of it, at the cost of much self denial. "It's the happiest day of my life," he says. He now lives in Chicago.

DURKIN SAYS HE TOOK COP FOR BANDIT

Claims He Believed His Victim Was Holdup Man When He Fired Shot

Chicago—(AP)—Martin Durkin confessed bootlegger, on the witness stand Tuesday in his behalf opposed the charge that he murdered Edwin C. Shanahan, a federal agent, last October 11, by declaring he believed his victim was a holdup man.

When Shanahan approached him in a garage, the prisoner asserted he shouted "help" and then fired at Shanahan. His self defense claim was virtually the same story as had been anticipated.

He prefaced the story of the shooting, however, by admitting that he had been active as a bootlegger at the age of 23, carrying on a liquor business from coast to coast.

Joining the Royal Horse artillery of the Canadian army at 16, he emerged gassed and shell shocked, Durkin declared, worked on a railroad and then entered the used automobile business and "bootlegged on the side."

His bootlegging business, he testified, was centered in Chicago, New York and California. He generally worked alone.

MEN TRY TO ESCAPE INDIAN MURDER TRIAL

Washington—(AP)—John Ramsey and William K. Hale again appealed to the supreme court Tuesday in an effort to prevent their trial in the Osage Indian murder cases in western Oklahoma.

A party of Appleton and Menasha people were attending a picnic. Arthur Lawrence of Milwaukee, was probably fatally injured Monday when he dove into shallow water at Waverly beach, breaking his neck when he hit the bottom of Lake Winnebago.

Mrs. Henry Eichinger, 225 S. Teulash-ave, was severely injured when she was struck by an automobile Monday evening while on her way back to Appleton from Oshkosh. She is reported recovering at the Mercy hospital in Oshkosh.

Not a single fire call was sent to the Appleton fire department during Sunday and Monday, which is unusual enough for any 2-day period of the year.

Probably the largest fire in this part of the state occurred Monday evening when a lumber yard at Shiogton was burned. The loss was in the neighborhood of $50,000.

FEW DEATHS CAUSED BY USE OF FIREWORKS

Majority of Accidents Were Due to General Holiday Festivities

Chicago—(AP)—The nation has just completed a three day celebration of its 150th anniversary with one of the smallest casualty lists directly traceable to fireworks and firecrackers in the history of its "safe and sane" fourths.

Deaths actually caused by fireworks, probably totaled fewer than a dozen and not many persons were seriously injured, but the weekend toll of deaths in automobile mishaps, drownings, airplanes crashes and other accidents was one of the heaviest ever recorded. Several heat deaths also were reported.

Fatalities from all causes during the period of celebration, in the major accidents recorded, totaled nearly 150. Automobile mishaps, including a large number of grade crossings smashups, and drownings, accounted for more than 100 of this total, about evenly divided between the two.

With the sale of fire works banned in many localities and the spirit of a game fourth bearing fruit from past preachments, many cities, including Chicago, with its 3,000,000 population, went through the weekend without a serious accident to Independence Day celebrants.

DOZEN HURT IN CHICAGO. A dozen or more persons were injured in Chicago the most serious accident occurring at a neighborhood patriotic celebration when a defective sky rocket took a horizontal course and plunged into the midst of a woman's band injuring four of the musicians and two spectators, and throwing 2,000 into disorder.

Among those killed in other parts of the country were: Philadelphia—Irvine Anderson, 21, Brooklyn, killed by a stray bullet; John Revelli, 75, killed by metal objects in fireworks exploded in a display Friday night.

St. Paul—Dorothy Anderson, eight, died of burns when a fire cracker set fire to her dress.

Cedar Rapids, Ia.—Lucille Catanzaro, 5, of St. Louis, died of burns when her dress caught fire from a giant sparkler.

Clinton, Iowa—Louis Krebs, 58, fatally injured by dynamite bomb. A dozen of the more seriously injured were struck by stray bullets while probably several scores suffered minor burns and injuries. One of the seriously hurt was Nathan Stanton, 19, of Davenport, Iowa. A torpedo exploded in his mouth.

MANY DROWNED DURING DAY. Among drownings reported were: Kentucky 6; Indiana five; Maryland seven; Minnesota four; Wisconsin one; Illinois two; Nebraska three; Michigan one; Pacific coast nine; Missouri four; Iowa one.

Monday's automobile accidents added to a toll that already was large over Sunday. Five persons, including four members of one family were killed when a northbound Pennsylvania trolley crashed into an automobile near Washington, Del.; five met death in a trolley-automobile crash at Altoona, Pa. and a family of four was wiped out when its machine struck a flat car at Alton Ill.

Three grade crossings accidents Sunday counted four dead each at Baltimore, Bridgehampton, N. Y. and Charleston, Illinois. Two persons were killed by racing automobiles at Salem, N. H., and Clinton, Illinois while six were injured when a car crashed through a fence at the Kearney, Nebraska speedway. A score more of scattered deaths in automobile accidents were reported through the middle west, two persons died of injuries received in a launch explosion on the California coast, while six accidental deaths were reported in Texas, nine in Arkansas, two in Utah and three in Oklahoma, including three refinery workers killed in an explosion at Cushing.

DARKNESS DELAYS AIR MAIL PLANE IN BARABOO. Baraboo—(AP)—Charles Dickinson, Chicago, operator of the Northwest air mail service, and Robert W. Radell, pilot were preparing Tuesday morning to hop off for Chicago with the southbound plane which was forced down here Monday night by darkness.

The mail was placed on a southbound train Monday night. Radell said the plane was late in starting the northbound flight from the field at Maywood Ill., and he was unable to make up lost time.

ARREST 3 DRUNKS WHO SLUGGED COP AND FLED

Janesville—(AP)—A county motor-cycle patrolman was slugged near here Monday as he sought to arrest five men for intoxication. Two escaped while three, attempting to flee in a car, were captured after a two mile chase in which the officer fired several shots. They gave their names as Edwin Bentschneider and Larry Schwartz, Clinton, Iowa and Richard Couthcott, Chicago. Couthcott is held on a charge of attacking an officer, while the others face intoxication and liquor transportation counts.

President And Family Leave For Summer Home

Will Spend Vacation in Camp on Lake Osgood in Adirondacks

Washington—(AP)—President and Mrs. Coolidge will leave late Tuesday for their vacation in the Adirondacks. Timing their departure so they will arrive in the morning, they will go by special train to Paul Smith's New York and proceed from there by automobile four miles through the forest of spruce, pine and birch to "White Pines, the luxurious camp on Lake Osgood, which will be the "summer whitehouse."

Preparations for the trip have been in progress for several weeks, and everything is in readiness for the reception of the president's party, which will include Everett Sanders, his secretary, Ward T. Clark, his personal secretary, confidential clerks and executive office attaches, the secret service men assigned to guard the executive, and his wife and a dozen or more white house servants.

Summer executive offices have been established in the Paul Smith hotel and 100 myrines have been detailed to guard the camp during the president's stay. Since a number of cottages are included among the 30 structures which make up the camp, ample accommodations are available for those who will spend the summer there and for any guests Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge entertain.

White Pines was created by William G. Massarone for the late Archibald White, New York banker, largely out of local materials. More than 10 years of planning and labor went into the 10-acre reservation, and at Mr. White's death, it was purchased by Irwin R. Kirkwood publisher of the Kansas City STAR, who has turned it over to the president for the summer.

NEEDS POWER OF DICTATOR TO SAVE FRANC

Caillaux Wants Authority to Issue Decrees to Solve Financial Troubles

Paris—(AP)—Finance Minister Caillaux Tuesday demanded of the chamber of deputies full powers for the government to issue decrees to solve the financial situation.

The deputies were told that they would have to renounce for the time being, discussions of measures for renovating the country's finances and turn the task over to the ministry.

Caillaux categorically declared that the government must be authorized to proceed by decree to effect economies, apply restrictions in consumption and arrange the details of a scheme for stabilizing the franc. This must be done secretly he asserted, in order to succeed.

The whole government's financial program, as outlined by the minister is founded on stabilization of the franc, with the settlement of the nation's debts, a prerequisite.

1 KILLED, 5 HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Richland Center—(AP)—Marjorie Dawson, 20, Milwaukee was injured fatally and five others hurt, two seriously, when a truck and motorcar collided here Monday night.

Gymnast Fish, Richland Center, suffered a fractured skull. A boy partially identified as Booty is in the Richland Center hospital in an unconscious condition. Kenneth Fish, 19 Richland Center driver of the truck and two other occupants were slightly hurt.

An investigation by Sheriff Olson into the cause of the accident disclosed, he said Tuesday, that Fish attempted to pass a motor car on the highway between Richland Center and Lone Rock. The truck carrying the young people crashed head-on into another machine. Occupants of the car were not injured and their names were not learned.

Mrs. Dawson, daughter of W. H. Dawson, assessor of income in Milwaukee-co, died Tuesday morning in the Richland Center hospital. A broken rib punctured a lung.

Cincinnati also was hard hit by the severe rain and electrical storm and for a time all communication with that city was lost. Later, however, it was restored.

MANAGER FOR VARE IGNORES HIS SUMMONS

Representative Morin Doesn't Heed Summons to Testify at Inquiry

TELL PINCHOT EXPENSES

Dry Candidate Paid for Only Six Hundred Watchers in His Campaign

Washington, D. C.—(AP)—Representative John N. Morin, western campaign manager for Representative Vare in the recent Pennsylvania senatorial primaries, failed to put in an appearance when the senate campaign funds investigating committee met Tuesday and acting Chairman King threatened to have a warrant issued for him.

"Find out where he is" the acting chairman told the secretary of the committee. "We will have to issue a warrant for him if we cannot get him here any other way."

Resuming its inquiry the committee was told by T. Henry Walnut, a Philadelphia lawyer that 600, paid watchers were employed at the polls in Philadelphia by the organization of Governor Pinchot in the race for the senate.

Walnut, who was Philadelphia manager for Pinchot, said $5, was paid for women watchers and $10 for the men on the theory that the men were the more valuable.

"The witness estimated that 'the Republican organization' which supported Vare had approximately 15,000 paid watchers in Philadelphia. Senator Pepper's organization undertook to employ watchers at all the polls but did not get the benefit of their services," Walnut added.

PUBLISH CONTRIBUTORS. Walnut said his organization collected $25,327.51 and expended $24,505.06.

The committee made public a list of contributors to the association against the prohibition amendment, but withheld a list of anti-saloon league contributors obtained from the record at league headquarters in Ohio. Publication of this list has been objected to by Wayne B. Wheeler and the committee decided three to two to make public late only those contributions which have been made recently. Others will be held in confidence as not germane to the present inquiry.

"The committee will examine the list and decide which are to be entered on the record," King said. "Until that is done, the list will not be published."

Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, the chairman and Senator LaFollette, Republican, Wisconsin, were recorded as voting to make all the names public with Senators King, Goff, Republican, West Virginia, and Mrs. Nary, Republican, Oregon, voting the other way.

Appearing before the committee at his own request, Representative Hill, Republican, Maryland, head of the wet bloc in the house flatly denied statements of Wayne B. Wheeler that he had received "honorariums" for wet speeches.

The senate campaign funds committee decided Tuesday to turn over to the district attorney of the District of Columbia the record of the testimony in the case of F. X. O'Connor, a south Philadelphia magistrate, for such action as he might deem advisable.

O'Connor recently denied before the committee the testimony of Senator Pepper and three Philadelphia newspapermen that he had told them the William S. Vare organization had offered to purchase his support in the recent Pennsylvania senatorial primary.

The decision of the committee was unanimous. Senator King the acting chairman announced after an executive session.

BLAINE IS AGAINST GIVING SEAT TO VARE

Madison—(AP)—Governor John J. Blaine stated Tuesday that if he is elected United States senator he will vote against the seating of William S. Vare from Pennsylvania should Vare be elected.

His statement was in connection with a question asked Senator Lenroot, candidate for re-nomination by a Madison newspaper, as to how he would vote under similar circumstances. The Governor said the expenditure of so large an amount of money as was reported spent in Vare's behalf in a primary or election is "nothing short of corruption, and excessive expenditure in campaigns is a badge of corruption."

Madison—(AP)—Senator Irving Lenroot gave his first formal campaign for the re-nomination. He spoke Tuesday at Bloomer, New Auburn, Chetek, and Cameron and Tuesday night he will speak at Hayward. His itinerary includes speeches Wednesday at Cable, Drummond, Macon and Ashland; Thursday at Melon, Glidden, Butternut and Park Falls; Friday at Phillips, Prairie and Osoma and Saturday at Tomahawk and Antigo.

TIGERTON HAS $50,000 LOSS IN LUMBER FIRE

Two Nearby Cities Send Fire Departments to Help Save Village

Damage estimated at $50,000 was caused Monday evening when fire destroyed the east end of the lumber yard of the Tigerton Lumber company at Tigerton, Wis. Fire trucks from Clintonville and Marion responded to telephone calls for help, aiding the Tigerton fire fighters in battling the flames, and checked them before they could reach the saw mill.

For a time the entire village was threatened, but a west wind restricted the fire to the lumber yard.

The fire broke out in the yard at about 7 o'clock Monday evening. Its cause is unknown.

New London was asked to send its fire fighting apparatus to the village but after a consultation between Mayor E. W. Wendlandt and Assistant Fire Chief Hadrian Freiburger it was decided to keep the apparatus at home. Tigerton is almost 40 miles from New London. Charles Rogers, chief of the fire department, was out of the city when the call for help was received.

8,000 HEAR ADDRESS BY LEGION COMMANDER

H. L. "Pep" Plummer of this city, state commander of the American Legion, spoke to an audience of more than 8,000 people on Americanism at the Legion celebration Monday afternoon at Shawano. The festivities were held at the Shawano-co fair grounds and were attended by the largest crowd ever in the park. The American Legion Saxophone band of this city furnished music for the occasion.

Commander Plummer traced events leading up to the signing of the Declaration of Independence and told his audience to consider how their lives might have been altered if the United States had not been victorious in the Revolutionary War, the Civil War and the World War. The state commander stressed the need for 100 per cent Americanism and warned against radicalism and pacifism which he said was spreading through the nation at this time.

Collar, who had been at a party at Medina, was returning to his home when his car ran out of gasoline and the kind-intentioned motorist offered to take him back to Medina, where he could replenish his stock.

Mrs. Henry Eichinger Knocked Down When She Seeks Lost Wrench

Mrs. Henry Eichinger, 25 S. Teulu-lah-ave., suffered serious injuries late Monday evening when she was struck by an automobile driven by Ervin Klebow, 418 E. Brewster-st., about a mile north of Oshkosh on highway 15.

There is No Satisfactory Substitute for Good Plastered Walls

Plastering is one of the oldest of the arts; yet nothing so far devised will satisfactorily take its place. If constructed of proper materials and applied with reasonable care the plastered wall is susceptible of receiving any decoration desired and retaining it UNBLEMISHED indefinitely.

There are poorly plastered walls we are free to admit, walls that soon crack and become unsightly. What's the cause? Directly or indirectly, beyond a doubt, the sand in those walls is the chief reason for the poor job. Most plasters require the admixture of sand — two parts of sand to one of plaster. For a good job the sand must be of a certain definite character (not procurable in many localities), the sand and plaster must be mixed thoroughly and in proper proportions neither too rich nor too lean. These are factors for which the home builder is thoroughly dependent upon the contractor unless he specifies Walls of Climax Wood Mortar.

Climax is never mixed with sand which at best is only a filler. Climax comes to the job ready to apply with nothing added but water. A Wall of Climax is all plaster of the purest type combined only with finely divided wood fibre, the perfect bonding and insulating material. The use of Climax assures you definite results — the very finest interior wall it is possible to build.

Be particular when it comes to plastering — a big factor in home beauty. Specify Climax Wood Mortar.

FREE To all who intend to build our book-let "Walls of Everlasting Beauty" will be extremely valuable.

What Julia does is really put into action what thousands of girls only think about. You'll recognize Julia. If she isn't yourself, or the girl in your home, she is the girl next door.

"Her Own Way" is a narrative of a modern girl's thoughts, behavior and adventures. It isn't a preachment. It draws no moral. But everyone who is interested in the new problems of the new girl should read the story.

NEIGHBORS' WIVES

BEGIN HERE TODAY
JOHN and FAY MILBURN buy a home shortly after the advertising agency in which John is partner and copy writer land, a new contract. Among their acquaintances are:

NOEL and VERA BOYD, whose marriage is strictly "modern."

FAT and MARIAN FORBES, who have three children and whose marriage is unhappy because of Pat's roving tendencies. Previous chapters told how:

John, in love with his wife, but a romantic individual, was fascinated on meeting NELL ORME, of whom Pat Forbes hints that she is having trouble with her husband.

When Fay took JUDITH, the baby, to Chicago, to visit her parents, John "ran around" a good deal with his wife.

When Fay returned John told her of some of his actions, but she is so hurt at his recital of a little reunion with DOROTHY FRANCIS, now a stage star and an old flame of his, that he is silent about some of his wilder escapades.

Fay is always fearful that John will get into some kind of trouble that will ruin their happiness, but John thinks she just doesn't understand him. It is left to MRS. BLODGETT, a gossiping neighbor, to tell her of John's coming home drunk one night and creating a scene on the front lawn, and to MRS. BIXBY, another scandal-monger, to tell of John's going out with ELEANOR MASON, whom Fay dislikes and suspects of trying to captivate her husband.

Fay, angry and bitter, orders Mrs. Bixby out of the house, and when John comes home late and with liquor on his breath, there is a violent quarrel. John, maddened because Fay will not accept his explanations, says it would serve her right if he went out "on a real tear," and starts to leave the house.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY (The names and situations in this story are fictitious).

CHAPTER XXXVI
John strode determinedly out of the room and did not pause until he came to the coat closet off the vestibule, where he grabbed his hat and clamped it viciously on his head. But Fay had followed him. Nothing he could have done could have served to anger her more than this rude withdrawal.

"Where are you going?" she asked, and there was in her voice a peculiar quality that warned John of the desperate emotional pitch she was working up to.

And so he capitulated. "I'm going out to see a friend," he said, and gave me my day in court."

"If you go out, you needn't come back—I warn you," Fay's face had gone bloodlessly white and hysteria was making her tremble all over.

"Well, then," said John, surrendering, "I won't go out. I don't want any scenes; I'm not fond of cheap melodrama. But at least give me a chance to explain my actions before you pass sentence."

He hung his hat back of the peg, and Fay without a word turned away from him and went upstairs. He could hear her sobbing as she walked up the steps, her breath coming in great gasps. His first impulse was to follow her, to take her in his arms and assure her of his love and of his bitter sorrow for hurting her so. But an instant's reflection stayed him; better, he thought, to let her have her cry—it would do her good. Then, perhaps, there would be a better opportunity to explain later.

And so he wandered into the kitchen where their unserved dinner lay cold, and attempted to eat a bit of steak. But he found it impossible, and a little later he straggled back to the living room where he sat staring into the empty fireplace, agitatedly consuming cigarette after cigarette.

He did not go to bed until he was sure that Fay was asleep, and the next morning at breakfast he tried to tell her the whole story. But Fay had thrown around herself a cold reserve which he found impossible to penetrate, and it seemed to him as he sat across from her at the table that he was breakfasting with a stranger.

"Well, he inquired, halting in his explanation of how Eleanor had called him up to fill in at the party, 'aren't you interested?' and Fay shook her head.

"No," she said, with great weariness, "I'd rather forget it."

"Very well, then," and John shut up like a clam.

Still smarting under Fay's silent rebuffs and her new and strange indifference, John, in a fit of pique, accepted Paul Davidson's invitation for a "party," and two nights later found him in the latter's apartment.

Dinner had been laid for four, and presently Paul opened the door in response to a ring and admitted two decidedly ornamental young women. Davidson, always saying or doing the strange, the unexpected, introduced John as "a discreet young man, as interesting as he is handsome, girls," and laughter broke from both the female visitors.

"Mollie and Joyce," Paul went on, "are both married. They're really nice girls, John, but every once in a while they get tired of cooking meals at home and call me up. Then there's nothing to do but for little Paul to rustle a dinner and an agreeable male."

"Tonight he seems to have outdone himself on both scores," said the girl who was Joyce, an elegantly tall and slender figure in clinging green silk.

Mollie, who was strikingly dark him, was getting much heavier, and the air of solid prosperity about him seemed to be increasing. "George," John exclaimed, "taking his hand, 'there must be a lot of sick people. You look like a bloated plutocrat. Who's your tailor?'"

Dr. Menefee smiled without answer, and Fay signaled that dinner was ready.

"Well, Clara," Margaret said to her younger sister, "you might as well tell the Milburns now."

"Why, what's all this?" John asked, "holding out any secrets, Clara?"

Clara smiled faintly. "Nothing much, John. I'm merely getting a divorce."

"Merely! I didn't know such things were considered so trivial!" Fay, completely surprised, said, "Goodness, Clara, what's it all about?" and added quickly, "Forgive me, I didn't mean to appear too curious."

"Oh, that's all right, Fay. Clifton is simply impossible to get along with, so I'm cutting—that's all."

"That isn't all," Margaret put in with some heat. "Fay, the way that man fooled her and led to her and misrepresented things generally was positively shameful. I'm surprised that Clara was able to put up with him so long."

"How terrible!" Fay murmured, and John declared, "I never could see Clifton Lane for dust, anyway, Clara."

"John," Fay remonstrated, "you have no right to say things like that."

"Can't help it, Fay. Now that Clara's getting rid of him, I can tell her that he impressed me as a four-flusher from the beginning."

"He was pretty much that," Clara admitted.

"In the first place," Dick supplemented, "he represented himself as a fairly prosperous broker, and he didn't have any more business than a jack rabbit. He and Clara got home from their honeymoon to find creditors besieging them from every side. He was all front, Lane was."

"What are the grounds, Clara?" asked John.

"Non-support and cruelty. There's the matter of separate residence to be taken care of before I bring suit."

"I'll be so glad when it's all over," Margaret sighed. "Clara has been so unhappy."

"It serves me right, Margaret."

Clara said contritely, "for marrying before you did and upsetting your plans. Doesn't it, Fay?"

John looked curiously at his wife, for Fay had been the first to suggest to him that Clara was playing a rather mean trick on her sister. But Fay laid her hand comfortingly on Clara's and said nothing.

"She's honest, at least," John thought. "She won't lie."

They discussed Clara's plans for a divorce during the remainder of the meal and then, when dinner had been cleared away, Dick began to talk about the medical profession, and John found that a good deal of the old irresponsible Dick had been lost in this keen, successful young doctor.

"Dick," he said with a despairing shake of the head, "you're getting positively reactionary. All I hear is ethics, and six per cent bonds."

Dick smiled. "The necessities of the profession, John," he smiled. "I have to be careful what I talk about. Have to be careful, even about taking a drink. You know—"

But Fay interrupted. "I think that same caution," she remarked significantly, "might apply to the

GEENEN'S

Still smarting under Fay's silent rebuffs and her new and strange indifference, John, in a fit of pique, accepted Paul Davidson's invitation for a "party," and two nights later found him in the latter's apartment.

Dinner had been laid for four, and presently Paul opened the door in response to a ring and admitted two decidedly ornamental young women. Davidson, always saying or doing the strange, the unexpected, introduced John as "a discreet young man, as interesting as he is handsome, girls," and laughter broke from both the female visitors.

"Mollie and Joyce," Paul went on, "are both married. They're really nice girls, John, but every once in a while they get tired of cooking meals at home and call me up. Then there's nothing to do but for little Paul to rustle a dinner and an agreeable male."

"Tonight he seems to have outdone himself on both scores," said the girl who was Joyce, an elegantly tall and slender figure in clinging green silk.

STAGE AND SCREEN

A MADLY MERRY MYSTERY COMEDY

Marie Prevost romps fully through a madly merry photoplay in "Seven Sinners," the Warner Bros. Classic of the Screen which opened yesterday at the Elite Theatre for a run of 2 days.

The seven sinners of the title are seven crooks who get themselves imprisoned by a burglar alarm system in a Long Island mansion. And Miss Prevost is at her best as one of the amusing gang of criminals. The others include Clive Brook, John Patrick, Mathilde Brundage, Claude Gillingwater and Hennie Conklin.

Lewis Milestone, who wrote the scenario for Miss Prevost's last success, "Bobbed Hair," has written the new story in collaboration with Darryl Francis Zanuck, and has likewise directed. He has turned "Seven Sinners" into thrilling, hilarious entertainment.

"YELLOW FINGERS"

Ralph Ince plays the leading male role in "Yellow Fingers," Fox Film's version of Gene Wright's novel, in which beautiful Olive Borden is star-struck now showing at the New Buoy today and Wednesday.

As the gruff sea captain who has earned the sobriquet of "Brute" Skane, he does some of the finest acting of his screen career. The part is one which provides a wide emotional scope—taking in love, anger, pride, pathos and a sprinkling of the humorous—and Mr. Ince takes advantage of every opportunity offered.

The story, while comparatively simple in plot, holds the interest from beginning to the wholly unexpected ending, being filled with all the romance and intrigue of the South Seas.

Besides Miss Borden and Mr. Ince, the cast includes Claire Adams, Nigel de Bruin, Otto Matteson, Armand Kahr, Edward Piel, John Wallace, Charles Newton, Josephine Crowell and Max Foster.

Emmett Flynn directed the production.

Ten teachers in the county received checks for $8 a month. The highest individual check mailed out by Superintendent Meating amounted to $72.

CAR IS DAMAGED IN REAR END COLLISION

While traveling east on highway 18, about four miles east of Appleton, Monday evening the automobile driven by August Berndt, route 5, struck the rear of the car owned by George Boelter, Shiocton. The latter was also driving east and stopped his car suddenly, according to a report to Appleton police. Berndt suffered a bruised lower lip and cuts on his left hand. Monday Games
FOND DU LAC 3, APPLETON 2.
Oshkosh 7, Neenah 1.
Kimberly 3, Green Bay 2. (17 inns.)

By dropping a close 3-2 encounter to Fond du Lac at that city Monday afternoon, Appleton's representatives in the valley loop lost an opportunity to take possession of second place in the league standing. Instead, the local organization now reposes in fourth place, a half game behind Green Bay and Kimberly, who are tied for third.

Outfit 11 to 2, the Baetzmen gave Crowe, who did the delivering for Appleton, excellent support in times of need. Rapid fire putouts on the bases extricated Crowe from ticklish situations on several occasions. His teammates threatened to tie the score in the ninth, but any last minute hopes went scattering when Schultz attempted to stretch his single into a two base hit and was caught at third base.

Appleton scored first in the third inning, and garnered its final counter in the fifth. Fondy likewise did its scoring in these two innings, forcing one run across the plate in the third inning and two runs in the fifth.

The attempted rally on the part of the Baetzmen in the ninth inning was crushed as follows: Baetz, first, grounded out, but Radtke connected for a single to left field. Tornow flied out but Schultz, who by the way contributed both runs for Appleton, met the ball solidly for a smashing single. He was nabbed at second, however, when he attempted to stretch his single.

Appleton counted its single run in the third inning by means of a hit batter and two hits. Schultz, first, was struck by a pitched ball, and Crowe followed with a single. Gosh, flied out, but Schultz scored while Crowe was making an attempt to steal second. The latter was thrown out. Bent, next up, then "came through with a resounding three bagger, but Ashman ended the inning when he sent out a fly ball.

A walk and two hits accounted for the second tally in the fifth inning. Tornow started the inning by flying out but Schultz connected with a safe bingle. Crowe drew a walk out of Verhees. Gosh, flied out again, but Bent came through with his third hit of the day, sending Schultz across the plate. Ashman again closed the inning with a fly ball.

Crowe found himself in a bad way early in the game. The first three men up to bat in the second inning hit safely, but Sonn, the next man at the plate, watched his teammates get caught off the bases in short-order.

Green Bay lost a grueling contest to the Cookmen at Kimberly by a 3 to 2 count. The game went 17 innings.

Kimberly broke up the long tilt when Pocan succeeded in reaching first. Vander Loop sacrificed, and Pocan went to second base. Len Smith next drove a hot liner to the pitcher who mowed the play, and Ossie Cooke connected for a single, which sent Pocan scampering across the plate.

Green Bay put one counter across the plate in the first inning, as did Kimberly, and secured its final score in the fifth inning, and from then until the last half of the seventeenth neither side was able to do any more scoring.

Smith, who did the hurling for Kimberly, struck out 10 batters, and LaCrosse, Bay hurler, whiffed 18. Smith fanned seven batters in succession. The game lasted four hours.

In the other game, Neenah dropped another battle on its home diamond to Oshkosh by a 7-1 count. Errors contributed chiefly to the defeat for

PHILIP J. GAUDIN—PUTTING GRIP

The grip used in driving cannot be used without change in putting. The reason is that the club must come up in the middle of the left palm instead of lying along the base of the fingers.

In order to keep the face of the putter at right angles, the positions of the hands on the shaft must be changed. Move the left hand a trifle to the left and the right hand toward the right. You may find that this must be continued until the hands are on opposite sides of the shaft. The only possible method is to test this out until the right positions are found.

It may be that the best position will be with the left hand well down on the left side of the shaft and the right hand comparatively near the top.

The putter must be grasped only with a firm enough grip to control it. A tight grip will certainly interfere with the wrist action, the only one there should be during the putting swing.

The chances are that this will be a two-handed grip, both hands and wrists doing an equal share of the work. This could be changed somewhat by extending the right forearm down the shaft.

BLUES ARE HALTED BY CHARLEY ROBERTSON

Milwaukee—The Brewers staggered home in the gloaming Monday, nosing out the Blues by the score of 4 to 3 in the eleventh inning of a long and lurid ball game. The snappy little skit was won and lost several times during the afternoon but the Home Brews finally finished with the keg right side up.

Each side had it and dropped it to get a better hold. But the persistent hitting of Clyde Beck and overtime labors of Charley Robertson finally had their reward. It was Beck's solid poke in the second extra chapter that won the struggle. The superb flinging of No-Hit Charley in his Drews debut saved it. Without the other each would have been lost.

HOOVER WINNER OF SCULLS RACE BY HALF LENGTH

Is Awarded Championship of Senior Single Sculls Event at Regatta

Philadelphia — A crowd of eight thousand rowing fans stood through a driving rain Monday afternoon to watch Walter Hoover win the championship senior single sculls race in the people's day regatta by half a length.

The national sculling champion and former diamond sculls champion, rowing with his usual superb rhythm, quickened his stroke as he neared the finish line and nosed out Russell Codman, Jr., of Boston, who was rowing for the University Barge club of this city. Al Vogt of the Vesper's was third, and Chester Turner, the Canadian association singles champion was fourth.

GILMORE IS FIFTH

W. Garrett Gilmore, former national champion, could do no better than fifth and Granville Gude of Washington, rowing for the Old Dominion of Alexandria, Va., was sixth.

Joe Wright, Jr., son of Coach Joe Wright of the Argonauts, proved one of the biggest surprises of the busy afternoon of rowing. Young Joe, a powerful sculler, who must tip the scales at 190 pounds, stroked his way to victory in the senior quarter mile dash, through a field that included both Hoover and Gilmore. Not content with this achievement, the ambitious youth swept to a twelve length victory ahead of Paul McDowell of the Crescents in the association single.

The New Rochelle Rowing club junior eight, displaying some beautiful rowing, was nosed out in a stirring race by the Crescent Boat club crew.

UNDINE CLUB WINS

Peter McGovern of the Penn A. C. turned in a pretty race in the intermediate singles to take the event.

The Undine Barge club won the senior double sculls with the Malta Boat club second and the Penn A. C. club third.

Tom Clark of the Undine Barge club won the 115 pound single sculls with Charles McIlwain of the Penn A. C. second and John J. Davis of the Vesper Boat club, third.

The Washington Canoe club won the Quadruple, double paddle event, with the Potomac Canoe club of Washington finished third.

GOLFERS GATHERING FOR NATIONAL OPEN

Columbus, O.—(P)—Mobilization of the big runs of the golfing world is expected to be completed Tuesday at the Seoto Country club which will be host Thursday, Friday and Saturday to the 1926 National open championship. More than half of the 152 qualifiers had checked in Monday night.

Among the stars expected Tuesday were Bobby Jones, 1925 champion, and favorite because of his victory of the British open title, Bill Mearns, Harrison Johnson, St. Paul amateur,

JONES GAINS FAME IN 10 YEARS

From a mere kid to winner of three of the four major golf championships of the universe in 10 years is the marvelous record hung up by Robert Tyre Jones of Atlanta.

Jones started on his march from "Atlanta to the sea and other points" back in 1916. Since then he has been the game's sensation. He has won the national open title, the national amateur twice and recently walked off with the historic British open classic, being the first American amateur ever to sweep through the field successfully.

Moreover, Jones has been up with the top-notchers year after year. When he hasn't bagged the honors, he's been but a step or two away. Last year, in the national open, he carried Willie Macfarlane to 36 extra holes before acknowledging defeat in one of the most thrilling and hotly contested playoffs ever staged.

In 1922 he finished in a tie with Black for second at Skokie, one stroke behind Gene Sarazen. In 1924 he was runner-up to Cyril Walker at Oakland Hills.

In national amateur play, Jones, besides winning the title in 1924 and 1925, came in second in 1919, losing to S. Davidson Herron at Oakland, 5 and 4.

Jones needs but one more conquest—the British amateur—to complete his string of major championships. He hopes to put that over next year.

In the above layout, Jones is shown at the age of 14, just starting to gain home-town recognition, and as he looks today at 24. Note the marked resemblance of golfing form—position of feet, swing and all.

Claims Golf Swing Hurts Batting Average Of Many

Is the golf swing a bad thing for a ball player's batting average? Jimmy Dykes, star third sacker of the Philadelphia Athletics, is more than convinced that it is.

A majority of big league ball players are strong for golf. They get the same thrill from a long tee shot as they do from a double, triple or home run.

Dykes learned the rudiments of golf as a caddy. At one stage in his career it was a question with him whether he would try to become a golf pro or a big league ball player. Baseball won.

During his early years in the big show, Jimmy was inclined to be streaky at the bat. Over that period he kept up his golf play.

Seldom out of the eighties and usually well under that mark, Dykes paid almost as much attention to his golf game as baseball.

Despite the presence of the lively ball, Dykes had a very ordinary batting average in 1923, falling to .252.

That didn't make a hit with Jimmy. Being smart, he set about to determine what had caused his slump.

After much experimenting Dykes decided that a stiff left arm held close to the body, while very necessary in golf, produced bad results in baseball.

Such a manner of holding the left arm curtailed the smoothness of his baseball swing and had a tendency to make him hit under a lot of balls, poor flies often resulting.

Dykes decided that while golf was no handicap to a batting average when played during the winter months, it certainly caused a shrinkage when indulged in during the baseball season.

He decided to give up golf and become a .300 hitter, a mark he had never reached during his major league career.

That was at the start of the 1924 campaign. Dykes religiously adhered to his decision to ban golf during the summer. At the close of the season his batting average was .312. He had reached his goal.

Last season, golf was again taboo with Dykes and he jumped his mark to .325. This year he has been in the .300 class since the season opened.

That is why Dykes, one of the best golfers in the majors, is convinced that it is a handicap to a baseball batting average when played during the summer.

There are other star big leaguers who do mix golf and baseball during the summer and still manage to hold their place in the select circles of the game's best hitters.

Many of these players use a style

Bobby Cruikshank, who tied with Jones in 1923; Al Watrous, Grand Rapids, Mich., professional who was second in the British open; Jack Hutchinson, Chick Evans of Chicago, former American open champion; Willie Klein, New York professional; Emmet French and Walter Hazen, two more favorites; Cyril Walker, 1924 champion; Roland Mackenzie, Washington amateur, and Watts Gunn, youthful Atlanta

YANKS DROP TWO GAMES TO MACKS AT PHILADELPHIA

Washington Also Advances by Turning Back Red Sox Twice

Washington and Philadelphia seem to have overlooked the fact that in many previous seasons the league leader on July 1 has been the champion in October. They gained much ground Monday. The Yankees helped the Mackmen to celebrate the signing of the Declaration of Independence in the city where it was signed. They dropped two games by 2 to 1, and 6 to 3. Washington advanced by topping the Red Sox twice 7 to 4 and 3 to 2.

Walter Johnson and Fred Marberry turned in the Washington conquests. It was the first start of the year for Marberry, who gained fame as a red-hot hurler, and he granted only seven hits.

Detroit fell before St. Louis twice, with VanCilder and Zachary the winning moundmen, 4 to 3, and 6 to 3.

Cleveland and Chicago divided with Leaven too strong for the Chicagoans in the morning contest which he won by 4 to 3, and Thomas of the Sox retaliating in the afternoon for an 8 to 0 verdict.

Pete Donohue of Cincinnati, shut out the Cardinals, 4 to 0, but Billy Southworth hit a homer which defeated the second contest in favor of St. Louis, 7 to 5.

Brooklyn and Boston also split, the Braves capturing the opening tussle, 5 to 4 and Brooklyn hammering the ball to all corners to win the second 14 to 5. Jess Petty of the Dodgers lost again.

Songer gave Pittsburgh a 4 to 1 victory over Chicago in the morning, retiring in favor of Adams in the ninth. The crafty veteran immediately brought out a double play to end the game. Five Pirate pitchers permitted 18 hits in the afternoon and Chicago won, 10 to 7. Adams of Chicago had five singles in six tries.

Philadelphia took two from the giants, 6 to 3, and 5 to 4. Williams, Leach and Henline of the Phillies and Lindstrom of the giants made homers. Other homers were produced by Miller of the Browns, Southworth of the Cardinals and Walker and Ruch of the Reds.

SPEED CLASSIC WON BY COOPER

Los Angeles Driver Finishes 200 Mile Grind With Burst of Speed

Salem, N. H.—The east, holding the annual Independence day 200-mile auto race this year, proved perfect hosts, allowing visiting drivers from the far west to take most of the honors.

Finishing with a tremendous burst of speed Earl Cooper of Los Angeles blazed across the finish line first in his Miller Special. A fellow Californian, Bennie Hill, roared in just behind Cooper to take second place after leading the field for most of the distance. Pete De Paolo, the famous French driver, was third.

Cooper made the 200 miles in 1:42:56 miles an hour.

Marry Hartz of Los Angeles, driving a Miller, was fourth, and Frank Elliott of St. Louis, also in a Miller, came in fifth.

A tragedy was narrowly averted when the car John Duff of Indianapolis was piloting swerved into the top rail, ripping it up for fifty feet, and then skidded wildly down the track. Physicians who rushed to the side of the injured driver, said that his condition was not serious although his collarbone had been broken and he had suffered a number of minor injuries.

MANDELL'S RIBS ENFORCES REST OF SOME WEEKS

Chicago—Sammy Mandell's activity in the ring will cease for five or six weeks because of an injured rib, Eddie Kane, the lightweight champion's manager, said today.

The rib was injured in a bout on the coast several weeks ago, and hurt again Saturday in Mandell's fight with Rocky Kansas, causing Dr. John P. O'Connell, examining physician of the Illinois Athletic commission, to order a rest for the champion.

"As soon as Mandell's rib is sound we will go right into training," said Kane. "He really is anxious to prove an active champion. If it is possible to arrange matches we will take on all challengers, fighting every ten days or so."

Fight Results

Cleveland — Tod Morgan, Seattle, junior lightweight champion, defeated Ted Blatt, Chicago, 10.) Johnny Hill, Philippines, beat Jimmy Meno, Cleveland (10.)

Pole Replacement Big Expense To Phone Company

In this state the price of telephone poles varies with the length and diameter of poles, the kind and quality of timber and ranges from $8 to $65 each.

The life of pole is dependent upon the kind of soil in which it stands. A pole standing in wet ground may last a life-time and another in sand may burn off at the ground very soon after setting. Both are exceptions. Set in clay, a pole lasts fifteen years. Barring accidents or other interference, the life of a pole may be doubled if the pole is treated with creosote before setting.

In wet ground, colonies of ants often drill into telephone poles and honeycomb their interior with runways, breeding places and grangeries. When a pole is fully tenanted by a colony of ants, it falls of its own weight or may be pushed over. As if being with ants red head woodpeckers everywhere in the state do considerable damage to telephone poles by hammering on opening into their interior and excavating a cavity two feet deep with a diameter almost equal to that of the pole.

A stone about the size of a man's fist was thrown through a window of the feed store of F. W. Hauert and son, 201 N. Appleton-st. early Tuesday morning. Police are investigating.

Attend the reunion were read at the banquet. Elmer Root was general chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements for the reunion.

ASK TOURIST NOT TO FLAUNT FLAG

Promiscuous Waving of U. S. Flag in Canada by American Is Cheap Patriotism

For those who at some time during the summer will cross the northern border of the United States and in their automobiles traverse the provinces of Canada, the warning broadcast by the American Automobile association, and re-stated here by the Appleton Motor club, against the practice of indiscriminate waving of the Stars and Stripes from American cars touring in Canada will be of vital interest.

This practice, the national motoring body asserts, has caused needless irritation, hurt Canadian sensibilities and has already resulted in some untoward incidents. Canadian officials are apprehensive over the flag-waving complex of visiting Americans, though they are less strict with those of the States than they are with other international tourists.

BETTER TO DISPLAY BOTH Through the local bureau, the association wishes to impress on car owners either to abstain from displaying the flag while in Canada or to carry

ANCIENT MAP OF BADGER SCHOOLS GOES IN MUSEUM

One of Wonders of Philadelphia Centennial Exposition
Found in Library

Madison—An educational map of Wisconsin which attracted unusual attention at the centennial exhibition at Philadelphia in 1876, has just been found and will be placed on display at the state historical library here.

Dr. Joseph Schafer, superintendent of the State Historical society, found the map in the library. It was referred to in published accounts of the centennial exhibition as the most remarkable exhibit there. Dr. Schafer intends to place the map on exhibit at the time of the society's homecoming, Saturday, August 14.

The map was executed under the direction of State Superintendent Edward Searing by Professor Noodens and Allan Conover, the latter a well known Madisonian, the former at that time an instructor in the engineering department of the University of Wisconsin. It is 48 1/2 inches by 61 inches. It has inscribed upon it the location of every school in the state, with a symbol to indicate its grade and kind—whether public or private.

Around the broad margins are drawings of the university buildings, the normal school buildings, and at the top, the state coat of arms. Within the unoccupied spaces are printed educational statistics making this production a remarkably complete description and account of education in Wisconsin, Dr. Schafer said. Incidentally, the map of the distribution of schools shows the progress of settlement in the state 20 years ago which, with its other features, makes the map a significant historical document.

"Its preservation, among the collections in the State Historical Library, after the centennial exhibition was through with it, proves once more the almost uncanny alertness of that great collector, Dr. Lyman C. Draper, the then superintendent of the State Historical society," Dr. Schafer said.

Small silver gift of practical use, everlasting wear and handsome designing are best selected from our comprehensive showing.

PROVIDE STEADY WORK IN CHORUS GIRLS' SCHOOL

Train Pupils Free of Charge but Places Them Under Five Year Contract

New York — (AP) — "Chorus Girls for Hire" might be the sign hanging on the establishment of Allan K. Foster, whose business is providing dancers for musical comedies and revues.
For many years he was a stage director and some of his experiences led him into his present enterprise.
Under his system, Foster takes girls and trains them, free of charge, for a period of six to eight weeks. Those who have developed and show promise of a good future, he then places under five year contracts, with salaries which amount until $100 a week is paid the final year.
Forty weeks employment a year is guaranteed and one of the contract provisions is that every girl must save at least 10 per cent of her salary. The average chorus girl, working independently, has employment twenty weeks, it is estimated, and is not paid while rehearsing.

PROVIDE CHAPERONES
Smoking and drinking, as well as stage door "Johnnies", are prohibited. Chaperones are provided to care for the girls socially and morally.
Early in their training the girls are taught all forms of dancing, swimming, riding and fencing. Four hours each week are given over to learning new dances and specialties. At rehearsals, the girls wear blue dancing costumes, all uniform.
Foster now has eight troupes—sixteen girls in each—playing in revues, vaudeville and motion pictures in this and foreign countries. He contracts for their services with producers and it is from the latter that he makes his money. For example, he now has a troupe in one of Shubert's revues under contract for two years.
One of Foster's troubles as a director was to have a girl become ill, after making it necessary to replace her with someone unfamiliar with the show. Another was to have about half the girls drop out when it was decided to send the production on the road.
Under his system, he is ready to replace any one of the troupers with another trained dancer and all of them are under contract to go any place in the world.

FIRST PERIOD AT ONAWAY CAMP TO END ON THURSDAY

12 More Boys Will Leave for Waupaca to Attend Final Period

Twelve boys will leave Thursday morning for Onaway Island Camp on the Chain of Lakes to attend the second period of the camp. The period will end July 15.

Approximately the same number of boys will return Thursday morning, the first period ending at the time. The majority of those in attendance will remain there for the second period, and the total enrollment will number about 60.

Those who will attend the second period are: John Goers, Paul Fiebelkorn, Marcus McGinty, Robert Reayner, Robert Scherke, Elmer Quayle, William Wilson, George Fackler, Jr., Horace Davis, William J. Cahill, Carl Erickson and Harold Gainer.

The camp is being conducted under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. boys' division. The boys' work committee of this division is composed of W. E. Smith, chairman, B. J. Rohan, C. W. Cross, A. R. Eads, H. H. Heble, R. W. Russell, E. A. Dettman, J. R. Denyes, F. E. Younger, M. H. Small, Herb Heilig, A. G. Oosterhuis, and John W. Pugh, boys' work secretary.

W. E. Smith, J. W. Pugh, A. P. Jensen, A. C. Remley, and R. W. Wood are on the camp committee. The customary "Dumbbell club" was organized last Friday night with Sammy Ornstein as president. Other charter members are Edward Sanders, Fred Marshall, George Goodrich and Maurice Smith. Since that time the following names have been added: Carl Erickson, Robert Mitchell, Joseph Mosen and Bill Meyer.

Any of the campers may qualify for the organization by searching the camp for such things as a shore line, checked pant, sky hooks, etc., by using sugar instead of salt, or by taking a picture with a bar of soap instead of film in the camera.

A tent baseball league is being conducted. This far tests it has defeated tent 7 by a 13 to 11 score, and tent 2 has beaten tent 6, 23 to 14. In the consolation game, tent 7 downed tent 6 by a 29 to 5 score.

A number of inter-tent boat races also have been held. The canoes carry 20 boys each and can be propelled at a good rate of speed.

A camp paper, "The Daily Nuisance," is being edited daily and read at the campfire nightly. Daryl Myse is editor. Each tent group is expected to provide news daily.

Robert Neiler swam from the island to the mainland back, a distance of about three-quarters of a mile, and could have continued had the swimming director permitted him to do so.

VICTIM OF BUS CRASH SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

The condition of Melvin Schneider, 903 E. North-st. who suffered a fractured skull when a bus in which he was riding dived over an embankment on the Baraboo river Sunday afternoon, is slightly improved, according to word received here Tuesday morning. He is confined in St. Mary hospital at Baraboo. His father, F. Schneider, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Lemboke of Seymour and Mrs. William Schroeder of De Pere left Tuesday morning for Baraboo.

YOUTH BREAKS NECK IN DIVE IN SHALLOW WATER

Young Man, Near Death After Leap Off Pier at Waverly Beach

Arthur Lawrence, 21, Milwaukee, broke his neck when he dived from the pier at Waverly beach into Lake Winnebago and struck bottom in the shallow water about noon Sunday. Lawrence was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital where several X-Ray pictures were taken. It was found necessary to operate to remove the pieces of bone that were pressing on the spinal cord. Following the operation Tuesday morning the young man was in a serious condition and it will not be known definitely for two weeks whether he will live, according to the attending physician.

Lawrence's parents live at Merrill but the young man had been working at Milwaukee for several years. Arthur Joosten of Little Chute and Louis Lautenschlager, 1002 W. Spring-st, were with him at the beach and before they could warn him that the water was too shallow for diving he had leaped.

Joosten and Lawrence are roommates at Milwaukee and they were visiting Joosten's parents over the holidays. Lautenschlager had been working in Milwaukee until about three months ago when he returned to Appleton.

Examination showed that the fourth and fifth cervical vertebrae of Lawrence's spine were broken and dislocated on his spinal cord. It was necessary to perform the dangerous and delicate operation of removing these pieces of bone to save the young man's life. The operation, at all appearances was successful although it would be at least two weeks before it would be definitely known whether the young man will live. He is paralyzed from the neck down.

NEW YORK SUBWAY LINES STRIKE FOR HIGHER PAY

New York —(AP)—The metropolis Tuesday was in the throes of a strike on its rapid subway system which transports more passengers than comprises the population of Chicago.

Reports assembled nine hours after the motormen and switchmen of the Interborough Rapid Transit Co. went on strike at midnight for increased wages, showed that a curtailed service was being maintained by strike breakers, and that there was some congestion, especially at the morning "peak" rush hour. The service to Brooklyn was temporarily abandoned.

Some express trains were being operated at 15 minute intervals instead of the usual three minute headway. The "local" service, where stops were made at every station, was faster than the express system. No violence was reported.

Motors and Independence Steels Lead Advance on Wall Street

New York —(AP)—Resumption of trading after the three day holiday found the course of stock prices still upward. An initial gain of 2 points in Interboro rapid transit in the face of a strike of some of the company's employees was one of the early features. Buying orders were fairly well distributed, but most of the early gains were fractional in character.

Over the holiday business news, consisting largely of earnings and sales reports, was largely constructive. Characteristic holiday weather in the east resulted in record breaking consumption of gasoline, according to trade reports. Stocks gathered strength as the session progressed, but trading was only moderate in volume. Motors and independent steels led the early advance. General motors was run up over 2 points to 139 1/2, the highest price ever recorded for the present session. Dupont, which has large general motor holdings, soared 3 1/2 points. Nash also advanced a point. Bethlehem, Republic and Youngstown steels also sold a point or so higher. There were a few soft spots, among the more prominent being Colorado Fuel, Mack Trucks and Pittsburgh and West Virginia. Foreign exchanges opened heavy. Belgian francs breaking 10 points to a new record at 55 1/2 cents. Demand sterling eased slightly to 4 1/2-15 and French francs ruled a point or so lower at 2 1/2 cents. Moderate recessions took place in most of the other European rates.

Realizing and short selling particular issues, United States Steel going down to 1 1/2 and Simmons Co. breaking 2 1/2 to 3 1/2, the lowest of the year were stopped toward midday when speculative buying of all stocks was resumed, following the jump in General Motors to 150 1/2.

Valuable public utility and chemical shares were conspicuously strong. American Telephone and Telegraph, Lambert Co. rose 3/4. The renewed rate on gas bonds was unchanged at 4 1/2 per cent.

The closing was firm. Total sales approximated 1,250,000 shares.

NEARLY EVERYONE IN APPLETON CAN READ AND WRITE

Just a Little More Than 1.2
Per Cent Illiteracy in This City

Only 1.2 per cent of the people in Appleton can neither read nor write, according to a census taken in the recent Better Cities contest. Appleton ranks only 3 per cent behind Janesville, which had the least illiteracy of any city in Wisconsin.

Following is the table of literacy for the ten cities entered in the contest. Janesville, 95.1 per cent; Appleton, 95.8 per cent; Eau Claire, 95.5; Fond du Lac, 95.3; Oshkosh, 95.1; Sheboygan, 94.8; Wausau, 94.5; Ashland, 94.7; Kenosha, 93.1.

The percentage of literacy ranges from nine-tenths of 1 per cent in Janesville to less than 5 per cent in Kenosha. The figure for the United States as a whole, according to the last census, was 6 per cent.

There is a wide variance in the expenditures of the cities for their schools. In Sheboygan 50 per cent of the tax money is spent on schools; Eau Claire, 45.5 per cent; Fond du Lac, 42.2; Wausau, 41; Waukesha, 40; Appleton, 39; Kenosha, 35.7; Ashland, 35; Oshkosh, 33; Janesville, 31.

Many factors enter into the expenditures, according to the census. Some cities spend more than others on vocational schools, adult evening schools and special activities within the regular school system. Good kindergartens, special training for the mentally deficient and the physically handicapped costs more money.

Women Fussy About Looks Of Car But Neglect Its Motor

Mechanics in Appleton garages are unanimous that women, in practically all cases, take better care of the appearance of their automobiles, but when it comes to caring for the motor—well not much was said by any of them.

But from the hints that were given it was the conclusion of the reporter that women are no better than men in caring or not caring for the engine of the car.

"Most women are taken up with watching the road and paying attention to the mechanical details of driving that they don't notice when something goes wrong with the car," one mechanic at the O. R. Kloehn company said.

"But you can't tell a woman anything," says one of the men who joined the discussion at this point. "No matter if we fix the car to perfection she is still sure that she hears something 'knocking or something' and she probably returns to the garage at regular intervals thereafter.

Garage men were unanimous in that a woman cares more for the outward appearance of her car than a man driver. She cleans and polishes and scrubs and washes windows continually. But the men were given the vote of the mechanics, unanimously, of being better drivers. They don't lose their head in a pinch as easily as a woman," they said.

"People in general are taking better care of their cars," said Otto Schaefer, head mechanic at the Appleton Auto company. "I remember five years ago when we garagesmen received as high as five calls a day for burned out bearings from people who had forgotten to put oil in their motors." He said few people who buy new cars ever read the instruction books that come with a car. They think they understand a car, he said, and the women think they can't understand the book anyway if they do read it and so it never gets read.

He tells of one instance of absent mindedness of a man and his wife who call this garage at least once a week because they have run out of gas.

Young men with new cars are generally the worst type for trying to "fix" their own cars, according to Elmer Krueger, mechanic at the Aug. Brandt company. He says that at least once a week this garage receives calls to haul in some car which the owner started to "fix" and then found (after he had it all back together) that there were some parts left that he didn't know what to do with.

Women are easier to talk to and they take advice in a better way than men, declared one mechanic, but they are awfully hard to convince. Men will listen to what the mechanic tells them and then will go home and try their own ideas, often with disastrous results.

Plain advice given by the mechanics is that when you hear a funny noise in your motor or about your car, or when you "feel" something wrong, call on your garageman.
